

Presentek, Inc. Los Gatos, CA

Assistant Web Developer

About Presentek, Inc.

We are an established Technology Marketing Agency founded in 1987 and now in our 25th year in business. Our customers are professional companies that include global organizations that you'd probably recognize and local Silicon Valley-based high-tech companies.

Presentek is a multi-faceted agency. We're focused on helping our clients use their web sites more effectively to promote their products and explain their technology. We're equally comfortable meeting technical web development requirements as we are with creative challenges. In addition to professional web services, we imagine and create interactive tools, product demos, electronic marketing collateral, desktop software applications and other services.
